

Mmabatho Phathakge – Chamber Officer

Mmabatho started her career 5 years ago at the Chamber of Commerce and Industry after receiving her diploma in travel and tourism management. “I was recently appointed as Chamber Officer with many more responsibilities, I am so excited about my new role.

She received the top achievers award at Boston Business College in 2009.

Shopping being one of Mmabatho’s most favourite past times, she says that her best childhood memory is definitely not having to pay bills.

“I love to travel and to experience different cultures and their nature. I would still love to travel to Paris, and Rio de Janeiro in Brazil.

It is important for me to reach all my goals and to be satisfied and content with my achievement. In achieving this, it will mean that I am successful.

Mmabatho met her partner at her great-grandmother’s funeral, not paying too much attention to him, he pursued to get her number. “Today I am thankful for that as he is my soul mate and he means the world to me.

I have an energetic 7 year old son who means the world to me. I also love my mother and baby sister to bits, so these people are the most important in my life.”

I am a loyal, friendly, crazy, loud and elegant person, but can also be fears like a lion, dependent on the situation I find myself in.

What we don’t know about her is that Mmabatho is a self proclaimed .... Shopaholic.

“Do what makes you happy, because you only live ones.”
